From Director's Desk

MR. RAJENDER MANDYAL

We feel proud to be associated with this prestigious Himalayan Group of Professional Institution. This institute provides bright future to the students and also provides better knowledge regarding their work. This institute also aims to preparing the youth covering for the middle class families for employment as a measuring staff after undergoing "Not too high cost training" in job oriented course.

Nurses always form a significant large component of health manpower. They are considered as backbone of the health care delivery system of any country.

Nursing education is an emerging profession and a carrier choice among youth generation. Scope of nursing has extended out of the traditional four walls of the hospital. The role of health care team members is changing in order to meet technological advancement in the health sector.

Though its pioneering efforts the Himalayan Group of Professional Institution aims to create leaders in the nursing profession by providing unique, innovative programmes that are responsive to the health need. Nursing remains the field for the young girls.
